Cooling Centers, Libraries & Pools Open To Beat The Heat This Weekend

JERSEY CITY - Mayor Steven M. Fulop and the Jersey City Office of Emergency Management (OEM) announce that the City will open two cooling centers and two senior centers, today, Saturday, July 6th, and tomorrow, Sunday, July 7th, as temperatures are expected to reach the 90's both days. Hours will also be extended at six public libraries both days.

The two community centers that will be opened as cooling centers are the Mary McLeod Bethune Community Center, 140 Martin Luther King Drive and the Pershing Field Community Center, Pershing Field Complex (corner of Summit Avenue and Pershing Field Plaza). Both locations will be open until 8 p.m. today and from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. tomorrow for residents to cool off.

The two senior centers that will be opened as cooling centers are the Joseph Connors Senior Center (Paterson Street Center), 28 Paterson St. off of Central Avenue and the Maureen Collier Community Center, 335 Bergen Avenue between Ege and Virginia Aves. Both locations will be open until 8 p.m. today and from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. tomorrow for residents to cool off.

"It is important for everyone, but especially our seniors and parents of small children and infants to be cautious in high heat and humidity," said Mayor Fulop. "If you have a neighbor who is a senior citizen or who has special medical needs, please check on them. And if you do not have air conditioning in your home, please visit one of our cooling sites."

The following libraries will be open to the community at large with extended hours from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday:

- Main Library, 472 Jersey Avenue
- Five Corners Library, 678 Newark Avenue
- Greenville Library, 1841 John F. Kennedy Boulevard
- Glenn D. Cunningham Library, 275 Martin Luther King Drive
- Miller Branch Library, 489 Bergen Avenue
- The Heights Branch Library, 14 Zabriskie Avenue

The Jersey City Office of Emergency Management (OEM) has issued the following tips for staying cool during this heat wave:

- Remain indoors (preferably in air conditioned space) as much as possible
- Wear lightweight, light colored and loose fitting clothing
- Keep hydrated by consuming plenty of water and natural juices and avoid beverages with alcohol and caffeine which increase dehydration
- Eat light meals
- Refrain from strenuous activities
- Recognize the symptoms of heat disorders

To protect others from heat exhaustion, residents are urged to check on elderly neighbors and those with disabilities. Apply sunscreen with a high SPF content to small children to avoid overexposure to the sun. Never leave children or pets in closed vehicles where temperatures could exceed 190 degrees in less than ten minutes, and provide shade and cool water to pets.
